ESSENTIAL DOCUMENTS

MISSION STATEMENT

It is the mission of the Philmont Public Library (Library) to offer all members of our community a variety of resources and opportunities with which to further their knowledge and cultural enrichment. We especially recognize our responsibility to serve the youth of our community by fostering the excitement of learning and the joy of reading. The Library's ultimate mission is to serve and be responsive to the changing needs of our community, continually seeking to establish and promote an environment in which the personal and cultural diversity of all individuals is accepted and respected by all staff and patrons.

AMERICAN LIBRARY ASSOCIATION'S BILL OF RIGHTS

The American Library Association affirms that all libraries are forums for information and ideas, and that the following basic policies should guide their services:

1. Books and other library resources should be provided for the interest, information, and enlightenment of all people of the community the library serves. Materials should not be excluded because of the origin, background, or views of those contributing to their creation.
2. Libraries should provide materials and information presenting all points of view on current and historical issues. Materials should not be proscribed or removed because of partisan or doctrinal disapproval.
3. Libraries should challenge censorship in the fulfillment of their responsibility to provide information and enlightenment.
4. Libraries should cooperate with all persons and groups concerned with resisting abridgment of free expression and free access to ideas.
5. A person's right to use a library should not be denied or abridged because of origin, age, background, or views.
6. Libraries which make exhibit spaces and meeting rooms available to the public they serve should make such facilities available on an equitable basis, regardless of the beliefs or affiliations of individuals or groups requesting their use.

Adopted June 19, 1939.

Amended October 14, 1944; June 18, 1948; February 2, 1961; June 27, 1967; and January 23, 1980; inclusion of "age" reaffirmed January 23, 1996, by the ALA Council.

FREEDOM FROM CENSORSHIP

Public libraries are not places of censorship where some people or groups can dictate what others are permitted to read about, listen to, or learn. When people target books and other public library materials because they disagree with and intend to suppress the ideas contained within them, their actions jeopardize the freedoms of everyone. The Philmont Public Library (Library) stands for free expression and against censorship. It shall remain a safe haven to protect ideas, as well as to challenge them. Censorship shall not be tolerated anywhere in or on the grounds of the Philmont Public Library.

The freedom to read is essential to our democracy. Therefore the Library shall support and enforce in their totality:

1. "American Library Association's Bill of Rights" (See "Essential Documents".)
2. "American Library Association's Freedom to Read" (See "Collection".)
3. "American Association's Freedom to View" (See "Collection".)
4. "Use of Library Materials" (See "Collection".)
5. "Collection Development – Materials Selection" (See "Collection".)
6. "Programming and Public Gatherings" (See "Patron Codes of Conduct".)

BOARD OF TRUSTEES

CODE OF ETHICS/CONDUCT

STATEMENT OF COMMITMENT

It is the responsibility of the Board of Trustees (BOT) of the Philmont Public Library (Library) and the individual trustees to ensure that the Library provides quality Library service to the residents of the communities it serves. The Guidelines which follow represent the BOT's commitment to the ethical standards for the Library.

GUIDELINES

1. It is the responsibility of the Board of Trustees to set policies for the operation of the Library and to oversee the Director. All decisions made by the Director shall be subject to review by the Board of Trustees.
2. The BOT shall maintain its fiscal responsibilities to the taxpayers of the Library district.
3. Trustees shall observe ethical standards with absolute truth, integrity, and honor.
4. Trustees must distinguish clearly between their personal attitudes and philosophies and those of the Library, acknowledging the formal position of the BOT even if they personally disagree. After a policy or rule is adopted by a majority of the BOT, individual trustees should publicly support those decisions.
5. Trustees must respect the confidential nature of Library business while being aware of and in compliance with applicable laws governing freedom of information. Trustees must not divulge information learned during Executive Sessions of the BOT.
6. Trustees must avoid situations in which personal interests might be served or financial benefits gained. The conduct of a trustee/board member must, at all times, further the institution's goals and not the member's personal or business interests. A trustee/board member should avoid even the appearance of impropriety. Acts of self-dealing constitute a breach of fiduciary responsibility. A trustee or family member may not receive, or appear to receive, any gain, tangible or intangible, in dealing with the library. As far as the public is concerned, even the appearance of a potential conflict involving a Board member undermines their trust in the entire library." (MHLS's Handbook for Library Trustees of New York State, 2018 Edition", pp. 15 and 17)
7. Library trustees may not benefit from library programs to receive money or even to give the appearance that they might be paid or chosen because of a conflict of interest and/or the possible perception of preferential treatment.
8. It is incumbent upon any trustee to recuse himself immediately whenever the appearance of a conflict of interest exists.
9. Trustees must make decisions in the best interest of residents in all parts of the chartered service area. No preference will be given to any specific group of people.

10. Trustees must be prepared to support the Library's fullest efforts in resisting the censorship of Library materials by groups or individuals. In dealing with the public they shall support and enforce, to the best of their abilities:
 - a. "American Library Association's Bill of Rights" (See "Essential Documents".)
 - b. "American Library Association's Freedom to Read" (See "Collection".)
 - c. "American Association's Freedom to View" (See "Collection".)
 - d. "Use of Library Materials" (See "Collection".)
11. Trustees who accept Library BOT membership are expected to perform all the functions of Library trustees. If a trustee is regularly unable to attend meetings or complete work delegated to him, the trustee should resign so that an active member can be appointed.
12. Candidates for the BOT shall apply in writing to the BOT. This shall take the form of a letter of interest, and may include a resumé.
13. A candidate may be nominated during one meeting, but not voted on until the following meeting. A candidate shall be recommended to the Philmont Village Board for appointment to the BOT after being approved by a majority vote of the BOT.
14. When terminating his membership on the BOT, a trustee shall submit a letter of resignation to the BOT.

TRUSTEE EDUCATION

PURPOSE

This policy complies with New York State Education Law Section 260-D which requires members of library boards of trustees, beginning January 1, 2023, to complete a minimum of two hours of trustee education annually from a provider approved by the Commissioner of Education that addresses the financial oversight, accountability, fiduciary responsibilities and the general powers and duties of library trustees.

Each member of the Philmont Public Library (Library) Board of Trustees (Board) must demonstrate compliance with this policy by filing evidence with the Board President annually.

ADMINISTRATION

Each year Library trustees are required to complete two hours of continuing education during their term on the Board.

According to Section 260-D, each trustee shall demonstrate compliance with the requirements by filing with the President of the Board evidence of completion of Trustee Education from an approved provider. Such evidence shall include one of the following:

1. certificates of completion issued by one or more approved providers
2. a signed self-assurance of completion (See Appendix M.)

Such assurance shall identify the approved trustee education providers, a description of the format and content of the completed instruction activities, the date and time such trustee began and completed each instruction activity and an explanation of why a certificate of completion was not available from such approved providers.

Evidence of completion shall be submitted to the Board President by December 31 of each year. Should a trustee fail to submit evidence of completion by the above date, the trustee will be suspended from duty until evidence of completion is filed. Should a trustee in suspension fail to provide evidence of completion within 90 days, they will be assumed to have resigned from the board. Compliance will be tracked through the Library's Annual Report to the State.

APPROVED PROVIDERS

At the state level, trustee education providers and activities (topics and formats) are approved by the New York State Library acting on behalf of the Commissioner of Education.

In addition to pre-approving public library systems as trustee education providers, the State Library has delegated authority to public library systems to approve additional trustee education providers and activities (topics and formats) for their member libraries.

EMERGENCIES

BOMB THREATS

Staff should clear the building and trigger the fire alarm on the way out of the Philmont Public Library (Library) building. Once outside, staff should use available cell phones to call 911 to report the bomb threat. Staff should move people to Main Street, but not directly in front of the building. The police will handle the actual bomb search, and no patron or staff shall reenter the building until the police have declared the Library safe.

FIRE

At the first indication of smoke or flame, staff shall investigate the situation to determine the location and extent of the fire. If the fire can obviously be contained and extinguished quickly and safely by staff, staff should proceed to do so by accessing the nearest fire extinguisher. Staff shall familiarize themselves with the type, location, and application of the fire extinguishers in the building. Fire extinguishers are located at the front door, at the back door, and upstairs.

If there is any doubt whether the fire can be controlled, staff should immediately call 911, trigger fire alarms if necessary, and clear the building. Staff should move people to Main Street, but not directly in front of the building. No patron or staff shall reenter building until the Fire Department declares the Library safe.

HEALTH

Staff members should exercise caution when administering first aid of even a minor nature because of the safety of the injured individual and the potential liability of the staff member and the Library. Staff with specialized training may administer assistance when needed at their discretion and comfort level, but are not required to do so. Since each case is unique, staff members should use their own judgment to do what is prudent and reasonable. The Rescue Squad/police should be called immediately by calling 911 in the event of any serious problem.

INCIDENT RESPONSE

For crimes in progress or an immediate emergency, staff shall call 911. For any incidents in the Library that involve a crime, a serious problem with a patron, an illness, a fire, a health emergency, or anything that may result in an insurance claim, staff should fill out the Incident Report Form. See Appendices E, F, and G.

PANDEMIC

During any period of time in which New York State is widely affected by a communicable disease that is recognized and/or designated by the national Center for Disease Control (CDC) to be a pandemic, the Philmont Public Library (Library) shall operate within the changing guidelines advised by the CDC and/or New York State. The Library's primary goal is to preserve the protection of our patrons, staff, and all members of the community. Adoption of specific pandemic policies shall be the responsibility of the Library Board of Trustees.

Before and during the implementation of any protective policies established by the Board, the degree to which normal Library activities are judged safe to be maintained shall be at the discretion of the Director, subject to review by the Board of Trustees.

8. Records shall be available during regular Library hours.

FINANCIAL CONTROLS

FRIENDS OF PHILMONT PUBLIC LIBRARY

The Friends of Philmont Public Library (Friends) is a group organized to support quality Library service through advocacy, fundraising, and volunteering in ways that promote the policies and long-range plans of the Library. GIFTS AND DONATIONS

Gifts and donations to the Philmont Public Library (Library) shall be accepted and acknowledged in writing at the discretion of the Library Director (Director). Upon request, donors shall be given receipts acknowledging and summarizing their gifts or donations, but the responsibility for the appraisal or estimation of the value of non-monetary gifts or donations lies with the donor.

Cash donations shall be accepted and used for general Library purposes unless designated for specific use by the donor(s). Materials, equipment, and furniture accepted for Library use shall become the sole property of the Library to use or dispose of as it sees fit.

Personal property, art objects, portraits, antiques and collectibles may be accepted at the discretion of the Director, with the understanding that they may be sold, given away or otherwise disposed of if such action is of benefit to the Library. In such a case, the donor shall be given the opportunity to promptly reclaim the item(s) if reasonably possible

Periodic inventory and assessment of all donated items for insurance and long-term care is the responsibility of the Director working with appropriate professionals.

The Library reserves the right to decline any gift which does not further the mission or goals of the Library or which might result in the incurrence of expense or administrative support deemed excessive by the Director.

If appropriate, the donor(s) may be asked to agree to all terms of this policy by filling out the Library's Gifts and Donations Form (Appendix O).

All decisions by the Director are subject to oversight by the BOT.

PETTY CASH

The Director of the Philmont Public Library (Library) shall supervise the collection and storage of money received for Library fines. The Director shall be free to choose and purchase for the Philmont Public Library (Library) individual items, the cost of which does not exceed $1000, without prior approval of the Board of Trustees (BOT).

2. Prior to borrowing tools or equipment, all patrons must sign the Use Agreement, Waiver and Indemnification Form. (See Appendix I.)
3. By taking possession of any item(s), patrons are certifying that they are capable of using the item(s) in a safe and proper manner.
4. Patrons borrowing the Library's tools or equipment are responsible for the safe and appropriate use of those tools and equipment by themselves or any other person(s) whom they permit to use those items while under the patrons' supervision.
5. Patrons may borrow up to two tools or pieces of equipment at a time. The Library reserves the right to make exceptions to this policy.

8. All tools and equipment have a lending period of seven (7) days. The Library reserves the right to make an exception to this policy.
9. All tools and equipment borrowed are to be returned to the Library by the close of business on their due date. Tools and equipment may be returned only during the Library's open hours and may not be returned in the book drop.
10. Patrons may not renew the check-out of tools and equipment. The Library reserves the right to make exceptions to this policy.

12. Tools or equipment shall be deemed severely overdue if not returned in two (2) weeks from the due date. The Library may replace tools and equipment that are severely overdue, holding the borrowers responsible for the full replacement cost. 14. Patrons agree that if any borrowed tool or piece of equipment becomes unsafe or falls into a state of disrepair, they must immediately discontinue its use and notify the Library of the issue on return, if not earlier. Patrons acknowledge the importance of bringing such conditions to the prompt attention of the Library.
15. All tools and equipment are to be returned in the same (or better) condition as when issued, barring normal wear and tear. All tools and equipment must be returned clean.
16. Patrons agree a) to accept the Library's assessment of the condition of all returned items, b) to accept the Library's assessment of fair restitution for damage, soiled condition, or delinquency in returning the item(s), and/or loss of any item(s) in part or in total, and c) to pay for the damage to or loss of any items. This restitution amount may equal, but not exceed, the full replacement cost of the item(s).
17. Failure to comply with any of these rules may result in suspension or revocation of patrons' borrowing privileges, and/or legal action against the patrons.
18. The Library reserves the right to refuse the loan of any items at its discretion.

LAW ENFORCEMENT INQUIRY AND SURVEILLANCE

The Philmont Public Library (Library) recognizes and strives to follow the practices of the American Library Association Code of Ethics, Article III, "We protect each library user's right to privacy and confidentiality with respect to information sought or received and resources consulted, borrowed, acquired or transmitted," to the fullest extent of our abilities. The Library also supports the rights and privacy of our patrons with "Civil Practice Laws and Rules Section 4509 Library Records."

Civil Practice Laws and Rules Section 4509 of Library Records states "Library records, which contain names or other personally identifying details regarding the users of public, free association, school, college and university libraries and library systems of this state, including but not limited to records related to the circulation of library materials, computer database searches, interlibrary loan transactions, reference queries, requests for photocopies of library materials, title reserve requests, or the use of audio-visual materials, films of records, shall be confidential and shall not be disclosed except that such records may be disclosed to the extent necessary for the proper operation of such library and shall be disclosed upon request or consent of the user or pursuant to subpoena, court order or where otherwise required by statute."

The Library Director is responsible for handling law enforcement requests. All Library staff should understand that it is lawful to refer the agent or officer to an administrator in charge of the Library, and that they do not need to respond immediately to any request.

PROCEDURE DURING A VISIT:

1. If anyone approaches a staff member alleging to be a law enforcement officer or agent requesting information, DO NOT DISCLOSE ANY INFORMATION.
2. Ask for identification and then immediately refer the agent or officer to the Library Director. If the Director or Assistant Director is not available, contact the President or the Vice President of the Board of Trustees. Photocopy the agent's identification.
3. The Director or other Library representative shall meet with the agent and ask to see the court order (for example, a search warrant, subpoena, or National Security Letter) authorizing law enforcement.
4. If the agent or officer does NOT have a court order compelling the production of records, explain the Library's confidentiality policy and/or the state's Confidentiality Law (NYS 4509). Inform the agent or officer that users' records are not available except when a proper court order in good form has been presented to the Library.
5. Without a court order, no FBI and/or local law enforcement agent or officer has the authority to compel cooperation with an investigation or require answers to questions (other than the name and address of the person speaking to him). If the agent or officer makes an appeal to patriotism, the Director shall explain that, as good citizens, the Library staff will not respond to informal requests for confidential information, in conformity with professional ethics, First Amendment freedoms, and NYS law.

6. If the agent or officer DOES present a court order, the Director shall immediately refer the court order to the Library's legal counsel (Counsel) for review (Rob Fitzsimmons 518-758-2333) and shall also notify the Village Mayor.

IF THE COURT ORDER IS IN THE FORM OF A SUBPOENA:

1. Counsel will examine the subpoena for any legal sufficiency including the manner in which it was served on the Library, the breadth of its request, its form, and whether or not there was sufficient showing of good cause made to a court. If a defect exists, Counsel will advise on the best method to quash the subpoena.
2. Following Counsel's advice, the Director shall insist that any defect be corrected before records are released and that the subpoena is strictly limited to requirement of specifically identified records or documents.
3. The Director or Counsel shall require that the agent, officer, or party requesting the information submit a new subpoena in good form and without defects.
4. The Director or Counsel shall review the information that may be produced in response to the subpoena before releasing the information. They shall follow the subpoena strictly and shall not provide any information that is not specifically requested in it.
5. If disclosure is required, Counsel shall draft a request to the court to enter a protective order keeping the information confidential and limiting its use to the particular case. The document will ask that access be restricted to those persons working directly on the case.

IF THE COURT ORDER IS IN THE FORM OF A SEARCH WARRANT:

1. A search warrant may be executed immediately and may be served to any employee.
2. Should a warrant be served, contact the Director. If the Director cannot be reached, contact the Board President. The Director or Board President will contact the Library's Counsel.
3. Should the Director or Board President not be reachable, ask to have Library Counsel present before the search begins to allow Counsel to examine the warrant and assure that the search conforms to the terms of the warrant. This request may not be granted.
4. If it is not granted, cooperate with the search, only to the extent of identified records on the warrant. Should the agent request assistance in identifying or securing records, cooperate fully with the request. Gather records identified in the warrant and present them rather than allowing non-library personnel to go through the Library's databases or records.
5. Continue to try to contact the Director/ Board President /Counsel.
6. Record and keep an inventory of the records or items seized, and if possible, make copies for the agent so as to keep the originals.
7. Should the warrant served be issued under FISA, a "gag order" may be in effect and, thus no one, under any circumstances, should disclose that the institution was served with the warrant or that records have been produced pursuant to the warrant. ALL staff must comply with this order. Staff should still attempt to contact the Director/ Board President and legal counsel.

IF THE COURT ORDER IS A SEARCH WARRANT ISSUED UNDER THE FOREIGN INTELLIGENCE SURVEILLANCE ACT (FISA) (USA PATRIOT ACT AMENDMENT):

1. The recommendations for a regular search warrant still apply. However, a search warrant issued by a FISA court also contains a "gag order." That means that no person or institution served with the warrant can disclose that the warrant has been served or that records have been produced pursuant to the warrant
2. The library and its staff must comply with this order. No information can be disclosed to any other party, including the Director if not present at the time warrant is served and the patron whose records are the subject of the search warrant.
3. The gag order does not change a library's right to legal representation during the search. The Library can still seek legal advice concerning the warrant and request that the Library's Legal Counsel be present during the actual search and execution of the warrant.

IF THE COURT ORDER IS A NATIONAL SECURITY LETTER:

The procedure is the same as for a search warrant. However, a gag order applies. The Director will contact Library Counsel. If the Director is not available, contact the Board President, and Legal Counsel. He/she may request that the Library's Legal Counsel be present during the search and that the search be delayed until Counsel examines the court document. If law enforcement chooses to proceed, the Library must comply.

POLICE SURVEILLANCE:

Following an incident which occurs outside the Library building, police shall be allowed to view external video footage from all Library cameras within the period during which the footage is saved.

COLLECTION

COLLECTION DEVELOPMENT - MATERIALS SELECTION

The word “Materials” has the widest possible meaning. It may include, but shall not be limited to, books, pamphlets, maps, magazines, journals, newspapers, manuscripts, films, audio media, digital information, and equipment owned or accessed by the Philmont Public Library (Library), including the Internet. Materials are chosen for its collection for a variety of reasons, such as information relevant to the public, self-education, and recreational pursuits of Library patrons.

Philosophy

The Library recognizes that individuals within the Village of Philmont and surrounding communities have diverse interests, backgrounds, cultural heritages, social values, interests and needs. It serves all people of the area regardless of age, race, sex, national origin, or political or social views. It therefore works to provide materials and information presenting varying points of view on current and historical issues.

The Library adheres to the principles contained in the American Library Association’s Library Bill of Rights, Freedom to Read, and Freedom to View, all of which can be found in this document. Following these principles, it is the Library’s goal to offer the widest diversity of views and expressions, including those which may be unorthodox, unpopular, or controversial in nature.

Implementation

In its goal to serve the community as well as possible, the Library strives to develop a balanced collection of materials, and it welcomes suggestions of materials to be added to its existing collection. The Library’s decision of whether or not to acquire materials shall be made solely on the merits and cost of the works. Selection shall be based on critical reviews from widely recognized, reliable sources. No materials that are presented as factual but include misinformation, or statements purported to be accurate but which are undocumented and unsubstantiated by widely accepted authoritative sources shall knowingly be accepted into the Library’s collection.

The choice of Library materials by patrons is a private and individual matter. While people may reject materials for themselves, the Library shall not allow anyone to restrict or deny other people’s accessibility to materials. It shall not remove from its collection materials because of anticipated or openly stated disapproval of any individual or group or by partisan or ideological pressure. No Library material shall be excluded because of race, nationality, sexual orientation, political, social, or religious views of the author(s). The Library is not a place of censorship where some people or groups can impose their personal views on others by dictating what others are permitted to read, listen to, or learn. Censorship shall not be tolerated anywhere in or on the grounds of the Library.

The Library recognizes that intellectual freedom, which depends upon full, confidential, and unrestricted access to information, is essential for patrons to exercise their rights as informed citizens in a democracy. The power of a democratic system is vastly strengthened by the freedom of its citizens to choose widely from differing opinions freely offered to them. In a free society, liberty of access to various and conflicting ideas is essential to ensure the Constitutional guarantees of freedom of expression to all.

In purchasing new materials, the Library makes a distinction between those which depict prejudice as an aspect of real life and those which offer derogatory stereotypes as valid representations. The latter shall not be added to the collection. However, materials which authentically portray a period or way of life are accepted even if stereotyping is included. Materials which portray the prejudices of real or fictional characters are also considered acceptable.

Parents and guardians, not the Library, bear full responsibility to guide, direct, or limit the reading, listening, and viewing choices of their own children who are minors, but not the choices of other children or those children's parents. Selection of materials for the Library's collection shall not be restricted by the possibility that minors may obtain materials their parents consider inappropriate, nor are children limited to the Library's children's collection. The Library does not stand in loco parentis. The responsibility for minors' use of any Library materials, including use of the Internet, rests solely with their parents or legal guardians.

The selection of materials, the sponsorship of any program, or the allowance of any study groups, discussions, or gatherings does not constitute the Library's endorsement of its materials. It does not monitor and has no control over information accessed through the Internet, nor does the Library have complete knowledge of what is on the Internet.

The ultimate responsibility for selection of Library materials rests with the Library Director, who operates within the framework of the policies approved by the Board of Trustees (BOT). All decisions by the Director are subject to oversight by the BOT.

Reconsideration of Library Materials

If a patron should object to the presence or absence of any Library material, and that complaint that cannot be readily resolved by staff members, shall be referred to the Director. The Director shall discuss the matter with the complainant, who may then submit the Materials Challenge Form (Appendix K) to the Library. The written complaint shall be addressed through direct discussion between the Library Director and the patron(s) concerned. If there is a request for the withdrawal of any material, the Director shall examine the item, and check widely accepted, authoritative, and documented reviews of the material to determine if it meets the standards of the Library's Materials Selection Policy. All decisions shall be given to the complainant in writing, supplying the reasons for the decision. Should complainants wish to contend the Director's decisions, their complaints shall be given to the Library's Policy Committee, who shall then present them to the Board of Trustees (BOT), with whom the ultimate responsibility for the decision lies. This may be done by letter or by attending a BOT meeting. Materials subject to complaint shall not be removed from or added to the Library's collection pending the decision of the BOT, which shall be final and shall be reported to the complainant in writing.

WEEDING

Weeding in the Philmont Public Library (Library) is an on-going activity necessary to maintain collections so that they offer a balance between standard classics and currently popular materials, while eliminating outdated materials, materials no longer of interest or in demand, unneeded duplicates, worn or mutilated material, and those containing incorrect information. For some subjects, such as medicine, technology, science, finance, and the law, materials may become outdated rapidly. In most cases, out-of-date titles in these areas shall not be retained even if nothing else is available in the Library's collection.

The Library strives to provide materials on a wide range of reading levels, and to create collections that reflect usage patterns and trends, as topics and formats may need to be weeded based on waning customer interest. Items dealing with local history are an exception, as are certain classics and award-winning books.

Weeding is based on professional judgment. Just as in selection, the content of the current collection, resource sharing, materials available from publishers and producers, and community needs must all be considered in decision making. In the weeding of materials of sensitive or controversial subjects, such as religion, personal values, or politics, the Library shall strive to maintain a balance of viewpoints, with restrictions stated in the Library's Collection Development-Materials Selection Policy.

The purpose of weeding is to:

1. Utilize available space in the best and most economical way.
2. Maintain up-to-date collections and the Library's reputation for reliability.
3. Increase speed of access and improve accuracy of retrieval.
4. Remove materials least likely to be used in the future.
5. Increase circulation.
6. Locate materials that need to be repaired, rebound, or replaced.
7. Save the expense of housing materials unnecessarily.
8. Review the collection for content and identify areas where additional titles are needed.
9. Become aware of changes in the way the community uses the collection.

AMERICAN LIBRARY ASSOCIATION'S FREEDOM TO READ

The freedom to read is essential to our democracy. It is continuously under attack. Private groups and public authorities in various parts of the country are working to remove or limit access to reading materials, to censor content in schools, to label "controversial" views, to distribute lists of "objectionable" books or authors, and to purge libraries. These actions apparently rise from a view that our national tradition of free expression is no longer valid; that censorship and suppression are needed to counter threats to safety or national security, as well as to avoid the subversion of politics and the corruption of morals. We, as individuals devoted to reading and as librarians and publishers responsible for disseminating ideas, wish to assert the public interest in the preservation of the freedom to read.

Most attempts at suppression rest on a denial of the fundamental premise of democracy: that the ordinary individual, by exercising critical judgment, will select the good and reject the bad. We trust Americans to recognize propaganda and misinformation, and to make their own decisions about what they read and believe. We do not believe they are prepared to sacrifice their heritage of a free press in order to be "protected" against what others think may be bad for them. We believe they still favor free enterprise in ideas and expression.

These efforts at suppression are related to a larger pattern of pressures being brought against education, the press, art and images, films, broadcast media, and the Internet. The problem is not only one of actual censorship. The shadow of fear cast by these pressures leads, we suspect, to an even larger voluntary curtailment of expression by those who seek to avoid controversy or unwelcome scrutiny by government officials.

Such pressure toward conformity is perhaps natural to a time of accelerated change. And yet suppression is never more dangerous than in such a time of social tension. Freedom has given the United States the elasticity to endure strain. Freedom keeps open the path of novel and creative solutions, and enables change to come by choice. Every silencing of a heresy, every enforcement of an orthodoxy, diminishes the toughness and resilience of our society and leaves it the less able to deal with controversy and difference.

Now as always in our history, reading is among our greatest freedoms. The freedom to read and write is almost the only means for making generally available ideas or manners of expression that can initially command only a small audience. The written word is the natural medium for the new idea and the untried voice from which come the original contributions to social growth. It is essential to the extended discussion that serious thought requires, and to the accumulation of knowledge and ideas into organized collections.

We believe that free communication is essential to the preservation of a free society and a creative culture. We believe that these pressures toward conformity present the danger of limiting the range and variety of inquiry and expression on which our democracy and our culture depend. We believe that every American community must jealously guard the freedom to publish and to circulate, in order to preserve its own freedom to read. We believe that publishers and librarians have a profound responsibility to give validity to that freedom to read by making it possible for the readers to choose freely from a variety of offerings.

The freedom to read is guaranteed by the Constitution. Those with faith in free people will stand firm on these constitutional guarantees of essential rights and will exercise the responsibilities that accompany these rights.

We therefore affirm these propositions:

1. It is in the public interest for publishers and librarians to make available the widest diversity of views and expressions, including those that are unorthodox, unpopular, or considered dangerous by the majority.

Creative thought is by definition new, and what is new is different. The bearer of every new thought is a rebel until that idea is refined and tested. Totalitarian systems attempt to maintain themselves in power by the ruthless suppression of any concept that challenges the established orthodoxy. The power of a democratic system to adapt to change is vastly strengthened by the freedom of its citizens to choose widely from among conflicting opinions offered freely to them. To stifle every nonconformist idea at birth would mark the end of the democratic process. Furthermore, only through the constant activity of weighing and selecting can the democratic mind attain the strength demanded by times like these. We need to know not only what we believe but why we believe it.

2. Publishers, librarians, and booksellers do not need to endorse every idea or presentation they make available. It would conflict with the public interest for them to establish their own political, moral, or aesthetic views as a standard for determining what should be published or circulated.

Publishers and librarians serve the educational process by helping to make available knowledge and ideas required for the growth of the mind and the increase of learning. They do not foster education by imposing as mentors the patterns of their own thought. The people should have the freedom to read and consider a broader range of ideas than those that may be held by any single librarian or publisher or government or church. It is wrong that what one can read should be confined to what another thinks proper.

3. It is contrary to the public interest for publishers or librarians to bar access to writings on the basis of the personal history or political affiliations of the author.

No art or literature can flourish if it is to be measured by the political views or private lives of its creators. No society of free people can flourish that draws up lists of writers to whom it will not listen, whatever they may have to say.

4. There is no place in our society for efforts to coerce the taste of others, to confine adults to the reading matter deemed suitable for adolescents, or to inhibit the efforts of writers to achieve artistic expression.

To some, much of modern expression is shocking. But is not much of life itself shocking? We cut off literature at the source if we prevent writers from dealing with the stuff of life. Parents and teachers have a responsibility to prepare the young to meet the diversity of experiences in life to which they will be exposed, as they have a responsibility to help them learn to think critically for themselves. These are affirmative responsibilities, not to be discharged simply by preventing them from reading works for which they are not yet prepared. In these matters values differ, and values cannot be legislated; nor can machinery be devised that will suit the demands of one group without limiting the freedom of others.

5. It is not in the public interest to force a reader to accept the prejudgment of a label characterizing any expression or its author as subversive or dangerous.

The ideal of labeling presupposes the existence of individuals or groups with wisdom to determine by authority what is good or bad for others. It presupposes that individuals must be directed in making up their minds about the ideas they examine. But Americans do not need others to do their thinking for them.

6. It is the responsibility of publishers and librarians, as guardians of the people's freedom to read, to contest encroachments upon that freedom by individuals or groups seeking to impose their own standards or tastes upon the community at large; and by the government whenever it seeks to reduce or deny public access to public information.

It is inevitable in the give and take of the democratic process that the political, the moral, or the aesthetic concepts of an individual or group will occasionally collide with those of another individual or group. In a free society individuals are free to determine for themselves what they wish to read, and each group is free to determine what it will recommend to its freely associated members. But no group has the right to take the law into its own hands, and to impose its own concept of politics or morality upon other members of a democratic society. Freedom is no freedom if it is accorded only to the accepted and the inoffensive. Further, democratic societies are more safe, free, and creative when the free flow of public information is not restricted by governmental prerogative or self-censorship.

7. It is the responsibility of publishers and librarians to give full meaning to the freedom to read by providing books that enrich the quality and diversity of thought and expression. By the exercise of this affirmative responsibility, they can demonstrate that the answer to a "bad" book is a good one, the answer to a "bad" idea is a good one.

The freedom to read is of little consequence when the reader cannot obtain matter fit for that reader's purpose. What is needed is not only the absence of restraint, but the positive provision of opportunity for the people to read the best that has been thought and said. Books are the major channel by which the intellectual inheritance is handed down, and the principal means of its testing and growth. The defense of the freedom to read requires of all publishers and librarians the utmost of their faculties, and deserves of all Americans the fullest of their support.

We state these propositions neither lightly nor as easy generalizations. We here stake out a lofty claim for the value of the written word. We do so because we believe that it is possessed of enormous variety and usefulness, worthy of cherishing and keeping free. We realize that the application of these propositions may mean the dissemination of ideas and manners of expression that are repugnant to many persons. We do not state these propositions in the comfortable belief that what people read is unimportant. We believe rather that what people read is deeply important; that ideas can be dangerous; but that the suppression of ideas is fatal to a democratic society. Freedom itself is a dangerous way of life, but it is ours.

This statement was originally issued in May of 1953 by the Westchester Conference of the American Library Association and the American Book Publishers Council, which in 1970 consolidated with the American Educational Publishers Institute to become the Association of American Publishers.

AMERICAN LIBRARY ASSOCIATION'S FREEDOM TO VIEW

The FREEDOM TO VIEW, along with the freedom to speak, to hear, and to read, is protected by the First Amendment to the Constitution of the United States. In a free society, there is no place for censorship of any medium of expression. Therefore these principles are affirmed:

1. To provide the broadest access to film, video, and other audiovisual materials because they are a means for the communication of ideas. Liberty of circulation is essential to insure the constitutional guarantees of freedom of expression
2. To protect the confidentiality of all individuals and institutions using film, video, and other audiovisual materials.
3. To provide film, video, and other audiovisual materials which represent a diversity of views and expression. Selection of a work does not constitute or imply agreement with or approval of the content.
4. To provide a diversity of viewpoints without the constraint of labeling or prejudging film, video, or other audiovisual materials on the basis of the moral, religious, or political beliefs of the producer or filmmaker or on the basis of controversial content.
5. To contest vigorously, by all lawful means, every encroachment upon the public's freedom to view.

This statement was originally drafted by the Freedom to View Committee of the American Film and Video Association (formerly the Educational Film Library Association) and was adopted by the AFVA Board of Directors in February 1979. This statement was updated and approved by the AFVA Board of Directors in 1989.

COPYRIGHT LAW

The copyright law of the United States (Title 17, United States Code) governs the making of photocopies or other reproductions of copyrighted materials. The Philmont Public Library is legally obliged to adhere to the copyright law. Any violation of copyright laws shall be the responsibility of the user, and patrons using public machines are liable for any infringement.

USE OF LIBRARY MATERIALS

The Philmont Public Library (Library) recognizes that many materials are controversial and that any given item may offend some Library users. Selections will not be made on the basis of any anticipated approval or disapproval, but solely on the merits of the works in relation to building the collection and to serving the interests of the community.

The use of rare and scarce items of great value may be controlled to the extent required to preserve them from harm.

The choice of Library materials by patrons is an individual matter. While a person may reject materials for himself, censorship may not be exercised to restrict access to the materials by others.

Responsibility for the use of materials by minors, including use of the Internet, rests with their parents or legal guardians. Selection will not be inhibited by the possibility that materials may inadvertently come into the possession of minors.

Use of the collections and services owned and accessed by the Library for patron use must be in accordance with prevailing local, state, and federal law as well as the Patron Codes of Conduct.

Patrons shall not have more than six DVD's and/or videos which are owned by the Library checked out at any one time. Additional DVD's and/or videos from other libraries shall not be included in this number.

LOCAL HISTORY

The purpose of the local history collection of the Philmont Public Library (Library) is to preserve materials that document the history of the Village of Philmont and surrounding communities, and to make these materials available to researchers and the general public, as well as for exhibition. The Library holds these materials in trust for future generations, and therefore, for preservation reasons, materials may be used only in the Library.

Donations shall be accepted only if the Library believes it can make good use of the material. The Library reserves the right to dispose of materials inappropriate to its collections in the following manner: After first offering to return materials to their donors, the Library shall have the option of offering items and/or collections to other institutions. In the event that reasonable attempts to find willing recipients should prove unsuccessful, the Library maintains the right to sell or discard those items/collections. The Library may also enter into cooperative arrangements with other organizations in order to preserve historical materials and/or make them more widely available.

The Karen A. Garafalo Cultural Center (CC) of the Philmont Public Library (Library) shall be reserved primarily for Library programs and any activities associated with the Library during Library hours and Friday evenings. Guidelines for donations for events in the CC can be found on the Use Agreement Form (Appendix B).

All individuals and groups using the CC shall be responsible for the removal of all items brought in and the complete clean-up of the room at the end of each use. The condition of the room and the configuration of the furniture should be the same as they were prior to that use. If the room is not left in satisfactory condition and additional clean-up is necessary, an appropriate fee shall be charged to cover the cost of the clean-up.

All individuals and groups using the CC shall be responsible for any and all damages incurred during its use.

THE DOT BOWES PAVILION

The Pavilion and surrounding grounds of the Library shall be reserved primarily for Library programs and any activities associated with the Library during Library hours and Friday evenings. In the event of conflicts, Library functions shall take precedence over non-Library events. When not in use for Library events, the Pavilion may be scheduled for use by nonprofit groups and for other events and programs done for the benefit of the Library and/or the community, at the discretion of the Director, with regular oversight provided by the Board of Trustees (BOT).

Prior to using the Pavilion, all individuals or group leaders interested in scheduling an event must fill out an Application Form (Appendix A), a Use Agreement Form (Appendix B), and then sign a Space Reservation Form (Appendix C).

Guidelines for donations for events in the Pavilion can be found on the Use Agreement Form (Appendix B).

When the Pavilion and surrounding area are not being used for Library programs or other previously scheduled and approved events, they are open for public use as long as all people using the Pavilion and the surrounding area abide by all conditions of this policy.

Use of the Library's grounds and/or equipment shall be subject to the approval of the Library Director.

Patrons using the Pavilion must be over 12 years of age unless supervised by an adult. Exceptions may be made at the discretion of the Library staff.

Violence, bullying, and/or weapons of any kind, including children's toy weapons, are prohibited everywhere on Library grounds.

The Pavilion is a "carry-in, carry-out" facility. What is brought in should be taken out upon leaving. All individuals and groups using the Pavilion and all other areas on the Library grounds shall be responsible for the removal of all items brought in as well as for the complete clean-up of the area at the end of each use. The condition of the Pavilion and surrounding area should be the same as they were prior to that use. If the area is not left in satisfactory condition and additional clean-up is necessary, an appropriate fee shall be charged to cover the cost of the clean-up.

PATRON CODES OF CONDUCT

GENERAL CONDUCT

Appropriate behavior shall be required in the Philmont Public Library (Library) and on its grounds at all times. Reasonable quiet shall be expected, especially in designated study areas. No patron may disturb others using the Library.

Misconduct such as the use of foul, offensive, or threatening language and gestures, bullying, harassment, loud talking or laughing, running, pushing, fighting, and other violent or offensive behavior shall not be allowed on Library property. The Library has the right to prohibit groups from congregating in or around the building unless these groups are participating in Library activities or programs. Sleeping, loitering, littering, soliciting, bringing in weapons (including children's toys), and damaging property are prohibited.

A library patron who vandalizes, steals, or destroys any library material, equipment, fixture, furniture, or building component, or who uses same in a manner inconsistent with customary use, or in a destructive, disruptive, abusive or potentially damaging manner likely to cause injury to the patron or others, may be subject to forfeiture of all library privileges, will be subject to financial liability for damages, and may be subject to criminal and/or civil penalties. Parents and/or legal guardians of minors will be legally and financially responsible for damages by minors.

All patrons are expected to observe the principles stated in the Library's Mission Statement, in which we seek "to establish and promote an environment in which the personal and cultural diversity of all individuals is accepted and respected by all staff and patrons."

Any conduct or behavior not following the above on Library grounds shall, at the discretion of Library staff, result in patrons' expulsion from the Library and, if appropriate, notification of the police.

Any individuals who have been banned from any Mid-Hudson Library System of Libraries for offensive, threatening or dangerous misconduct may be requested to meet with the Director in order to be informed of the Library's Patron Codes of Conduct policies. The individuals must then sign a statement agreeing to follow those Codes of Conduct before being admitted to the Library. Individuals who refuse to agree to these stipulations in writing shall not be admitted to the Library for a length of time to be determined at the discretion of the Director. See Appendix J.

DRESS AND PERSONAL HYGIENE

Patrons of the Philmont Public Library (Library) shall be fully clothed, including footwear, and shall maintain a generally acceptable standard of personal hygiene. Dress and personal hygiene which may offend other patrons or staff shall be considered inappropriate. Acceptable standards of dress and personal hygiene shall be determined by the Library staff. Violation of acceptable standards may result in the staff's request for patrons to leave the Library.

FOOD, BEVERAGES, SMOKING, AND DRUGS

The consumption of food and beverages is prohibited within the Philmont Public Library (Library), with the exception of the Cultural Center. Food and beverages may be consumed on Library grounds as long as the carry-in, carry-out policy is strictly observed. This also applies to all containers, supplies, and clean-up materials.

Alcoholic beverages and illegal drugs are prohibited in all areas of the Library's building and grounds.

In accordance with New York State and local laws, the Library and its property are smoke-free areas.

At the discretion of the Library staff, violation of these policies may result in expulsion from the Library and, if appropriate, notification of the police.

VIDEO AND AUDIO RECORDINGS

No one shall be allowed to make video and/or audio recordings on the property of the Philmont Public Library with the intent to publish or place them on social media without the express permission of the Director. Said permission shall be granted or denied at the discretion of the Director. This does not apply to recordings made in conformity with the New York State Open Meetings Law.

PHONE USE

Philmont Public Library (Library) telephones are primarily for the use of the staff for Library business. Cell phone use in the Library shall be limited to emergencies and situations involving the personal safety of patrons and staff. Patrons' use of either type of phone shall be acceptable only at the discretion of the Library staff.

YOUNG PATRONS

No children aged 12 and under may be left unattended in the Philmont Public Library (Library) or on Library grounds for periods of longer than 10 minutes, with exceptions at the discretion of the staff.

Children under the age of 16 shall not be permitted on Library property during school hours, unless accompanied by a parent, teacher, or legal guardian.

Decisions as to whether or not to require children's supervision by parents or legal guardians during Library programs, tutoring sessions, or other non-profit events will be at the discretion of the Director and/or staff.

VULNERABLE ADULTS

A vulnerable adult is an individual over the age of 18 who is mentally or physically challenged to a degree that may significantly impair that person's ability to provide adequately for his personal needs and manage his behavior without assistance.

A parent, guardian or caregiver 18 years of age or older must be responsible for monitoring the activities and managing the behavior of vulnerable adults during their visits to the Philmont Public Library (Library).

Physically challenged adults who are capable of providing for their own needs are welcome to remain in the Library.

PATRONS WITH DISABILITIES

The Philmont Public Library (Library) complies with the Americans with Disabilities Act of 1990, Public Law 101-336 (ADA), which prohibits discrimination on the basis of disability. The ADA, as applied to cities, counties, and other local governmental entities, requires that no qualified individual with a disability shall, on the basis of a disability, be denied the benefits of local government services, programs, or activities.

The Library offers the same services to patrons with disabilities as to all other segments of the population. In addition to those services, the Library acts as facilitator between the patron and Services to the Blind and Physically Handicapped, and welcomes service animals in the Library.

PETS

Pets shall be permitted in the Philmont Public Library (Library) at the discretion of the Director and/or the Library staff. Patrons are expected to clean up after their pets.

PATRON COMPLAINTS

While the Philmont Public Library (Library) strives to provide the highest levels of satisfaction and service to its patrons, the BOT recognizes that occasionally a patron may wish to make a complaint.

A Library patron may choose to start by making his complaint on an informal, oral basis to the Library's staff. If the patron chooses not to do so, or if the complaint does not lend itself to informal resolution, the patron should request and complete a Patron Complaint Form (Appendix D). The Director shall promptly review the completed Complaint Form and, where appropriate, attempt to resolve the complaint directly and provide a written response to the patron.

If the patron is not satisfied with the response provided, and/or if the Director decides that the situation warrants the input of the BOT, either or both parties may bring the written complaint to the attention of the BOT. A patron desiring to do so may also request an opportunity to address the BOT at one of its monthly meetings.

The BOT shall promptly review a complaint presented to it, provide a written response to the complainant, and take any further remedial action warranted by the particular circumstances.

The decision of the BOT with respect to a complaint will be final.

PROGRAMMING AND PUBLIC GATHERINGS

The purpose of Philmont Public Library (Library) programs is to provide opportunities for information, learning, community engagement and enrichment. The Library does not allow programming or gatherings for commercial purposes. At the discretion of the Director, religious study may be allowed, but proselytizing is prohibited. Library sponsorship of any program or the allowance of any study groups, discussions, or gatherings shall not constitute an endorsement of the content or views expressed during any programs.

The Director is responsible for programming. The Library welcomes opinions from patrons regarding programming. If any patrons have concerns or questions about a program, they should discuss the matter with the Director in person or by written request.

No gathering or rally of any kind that is perceived by the Director to be a potential danger, intimidation, or threat to any person(s) on Library grounds or in the Village of Philmont shall be allowed on Library grounds.

POLITICAL ACTIVITIES

1. The Philmont Public Library (Library) shall always act in a non-partisan way. As a foundational institution for an inclusive democracy, which depends upon an informed electorate, the Library plays an important role in civic dialogue.
2. While supporting the democratic process, freedom of expression, and discussion of political issues, the Library shall not support, endorse, or advocate the viewpoints or beliefs of any one candidate, political party, partisan organization or group. Our goal is to preserve the public's trust in the Library as an independent organization by being careful to avoid any perception of bias or partisanship.
3. Posting or distributing partisan election or campaign materials, canvassing, soliciting signatures, or protesting is not permitted on Library grounds. Candidates or their representatives may not use the Library's staff, facilities, equipment, supplies, services, or social media for election campaigns or campaign-related activities.
4. Elected officials, candidates for political office, representatives of political parties, or third-party advertisers may not use Library grounds to make public statements or host media events unless they are part of a Library-sponsored program such as "Meet the Candidates" in which candidates of all registered parties are invited to participate.

All decisions by the Director are subject to review by the Board of Trustees.

TUTORING

Tutoring is an activity that relates to the role of the Philmont Public Library (Library) as an educational support center. The use of the Library's space is permitted for non-profit volunteer tutoring only.

Space for sanctioned tutoring activities is subject to availability. At the discretion of the Director, permission may be denied due to the Library's needs or to space constraints.

The Director has final discretion as to whether an activity qualifies as tutoring and is permissible under this policy.

Each tutor must submit a Reservation Form (Appendix A), a Use Agreement Form (Appendix B), and a Tutoring Reservation Form (Appendix C).

The Director has final discretion as to whether the tutor is reserving excessive time to the detriment of others who may wish to reserve the same space. There is no limitation to individual tutoring in other areas of the Library without a reservation.

The Library is not to be used as a classroom or office space but as a quiet and safe workspace for students to receive instruction. Conversations or instruction should not be loud enough to distract other Library users.

Tutors may not publish or distribute advertisements or letters identifying the Library as their place of doing business or imply Library sponsorship of their activities.

The Library does not sponsor, recommend or assume liability or responsibility for the work and/or activities of the tutor. All arrangements must be made between the student and the tutor. Tutors are responsible for establishing communication protocols for their students and their parents. Library staff shall not make or cancel appointments between students and tutors, nor relay messages on their behalf. Tutors and students must bring their own supplies.

Tutors and students are expected to abide by all of the Library's Patron Policies. Children under the age of 18 who are tutored in the Library are the responsibility of the tutor while on Library property until they are released to a parent, guardian, or someone providing authorized transportation.

Children aged 12 and under require permission and supervision of a parent or guardian while using the Library computers.

Devices attached to computers such as a computer mouse and USB cards must stay in place and not be removed or switched to other computers.

Computers shall not be used in a manner disruptive of other people's work. If the computer being used is equipped with sound, headphones must be used. Headphones are available to be borrowed at the front desk, and must be returned after each use.

The Library assumes no responsibility for the safety of personal equipment or its security, data files, or configurations while connected to the Library's wireless system.

Users may not change the settings of Library computers without the express permission of the Library staff.

Tampering with/disabling of the Library's computer hardware or software, or introducing viruses is strictly prohibited.

The Library's computers are to be used for lawful purposes only. In accordance with federal and state laws and regulations, patrons are not permitted to use terminals for any illegal or criminal purpose, including, but not limited to, accessing child pornography or other legally obscene materials (as defined in NYS Penal Law Section 235.00), harassment or stalking, theft, or seeking unauthorized access to computer systems. The Library expressly disclaims any liability or responsibility arising from access to or use of information obtained through electronic information systems, or which encompasses any activities by a user found to be illegal, or any consequences thereof. Serious or repeated violations of the Computer Use Policy may result in suspension of Library services.

INTERNET USE

In keeping with its Mission to serve the community by providing information through various media, the Philmont Public Library (Library) offers access to the Internet via computers, as well as wireless Internet access on patrons' own devices.

The New York State Library (NYSL) provides users with access to the Internet. The Internet is a global electronic network that provides dynamic resources and facilitates communication. The Library staff cannot control access points that often change rapidly and unpredictably. Users are responsible for the choice of sites that they visit, but must follow Library rules regarding activities that are not allowed.

NYSL is not responsible for the content, timeliness, accuracy, or usefulness of information accessed via the Internet. Use of any information obtained is at the user's risk.

NYSL is not responsible for any damages resulting from information downloaded on disks.

Use of NYSL's computer systems does not provide the user with any expectation of privacy. Using interactive services such as online payment of bills or purchase of materials involves discretion on the user's part regarding the security of such information. NYSL does not accept responsibility for any personal information that is transmitted over the Internet.

Library staff may not be able to assist patrons with detailed word processing and e-mail questions.

Customers may bring in their own disks, CD's, or flash drives. Disks, CD's, and flash drives brought in by customers must be scanned for viruses.

Assignment of particular terminals for public use is at the discretion of the Library staff.

The Library shall operate in compliance with the Children's Internet Protection Act (CIPA). However, the Library does not monitor and has no control over the information accessed through the Internet, nor does the Library have complete knowledge of what is on the Internet. The Library is not responsible for the supervision of a minor's use of the Internet. As with other Library materials, a minor's use of the Internet is the responsibility of the parent/legal guardian.

Library computers with Internet access are located in public areas shared by patrons of varying ages, background and sensibilities. Individuals are asked to be considerate about accessing potentially controversial information and images.

Patrons may not use Library computers or its internet access for spamming.

All rules of copyright and personal property must be honored. Information in the form of text, graphics, music, video, software, and other media retrieved or utilized electronically should be considered protected.

Patrons may download to a flash drive. Users may not install software on Library computers.

WIRELESS INTERNET USE

The internet connection of the Philmont Public Library (Library) provides patrons with free wireless (Wi-Fi) internet access. The wireless connection is a public service offered by the Library. It is not a secure form of connection.

Patrons' use of the Library's wireless connection shall constitute their agreement to abide by the Library's "Computer Use" policy, "Internet Use" policy, and the following stipulations:

1. Patrons shall refrain from using the Library's wireless service as a permanent connection.
2. Patrons shall assume all risks associated with using the connection. They shall not hold the Library or its employees responsible for any damage caused to the users' hardware or software.
3. Patrons shall accept responsibility for configuring their own equipment.
4. Patrons shall acknowledge that the Library cannot guarantee that service will be available at any specific time.

Provision of wireless internet access shall be completely at the discretion of the Library. It may be blocked, suspended, or terminated at any time for any reason including, but not limited to, violation of this policy, actions that may lead to liability for the Library, violation of applicable laws or regulations, or disruption of access to other users, networks, or third parties.

Each time patrons use the Library's wireless access, they shall be accountable for reviewing all terms of this policy.

The Library may revise these terms of service at any time.

The Philmont Public Library (Library) supports and complies with New York State Law (New York State Civil Practice Law & Rules 4508, Chapter 112, Laws of 1988) with respect to the confidentiality of Library records.

New York State Civil Practice Law & Rules 4508, Chapter 112, Laws of 1988:

Library records, which contain names or other personally identifying details regarding the users of public, free association, school, college and university libraries and library systems of this state, including but not limited to records relating to the circulation of library materials, computer database searches, interlibrary loan transactions, reference queries, requests for photocopies of library materials, title reserve requests, or the use of audio-visual materials, films or records, shall be confidential and shall not be disclosed except that such records may be disclosed to the extent necessary for the proper operation of the library and shall be disclosed upon request or consent of the user or pursuant to subpoena, court order or where otherwise required by statute.

Patrons may sign a confidentiality waiver giving another individual permission to do one or both of the following: Request information about materials on loan and/or take out materials.

WORKPLACE VIOLENCE PREVENTION AND INCIDENT REPORTING

The Philmont Public Library (Library), located in the Village of Philmont (Village), is committed to the safety and security of everyone on Library grounds. Workplace violence presents a serious safety hazard to all. The Library will not tolerate any aggressive behavior consisting of violence or threats of violence on Library grounds or anywhere that Library-related activities are taking place. Such violence or threats of violence shall consist of any intentionally aggressive behavior consisting of physical contact, attempted physical contact, or threat to commit immediate or future actions with the intent to cause physical harm, against any person when said behavior either entails physical injury or would cause that person to fear bodily harm, and when said behavior occurs on Library grounds or wherever Library staff, trustees, or volunteers are performing Library-related activities.

Threats, threatening behavior, or acts of violence against employees, patrons, or other individuals by anyone on Library property shall be thoroughly investigated and appropriate action taken. This may, when warranted, include summoning criminal justice authorities and/or emergency services such as 911 or the Mental Health Mobile Crisis Assessment Team. All employees are responsible for helping to create an environment of mutual respect for each other as well as for the public, following all policies, procedures and program requirements, and for assisting in maintaining a safe and secure work environment.

All Library personnel are responsible for reporting any violent incidents or threatening behavior, including threats they have witnessed, received, or have been told that another person has witnessed or received.

The following procedures should be followed immediately:

- 1) Attempt to de-escalate the situation to the extent that the witness judges such action to be safe, prudent, and effective.
- 2) Immediately call 911 to summon medical help and/or criminal justice authorities if the staff member judges either action to be necessary or prudent.
- 3) Inform the Director of all complaints or reports received by the Library, whether from Library personnel, patrons, or other individuals. If the Library Director cannot be reached, report the incident or threat to the President of the Library Board of Trustees.
- 4) Complete the Library's Violence/Threat of Violence Form (Appendix F).

At the discretion of the Director, all of whose decisions are subject to the approval of the Board of Trustees, complaints shall be addressed internally and/or shall be reported to the Village Deputy Clerk as well as to the local police or County Sheriff if warranted. Should complaints involve the Library Director, they should be reported directly to the President or Vice President of the Library Board of Trustees, who shall follow up with the complete Board of Trustees as well as the Village Deputy Clerk if warranted.

The goal of this policy is to promote the safety and well-being of all people in our workplace and grounds. It is designed to meet the requirements of NYS Labor Law 27b and includes relevant elements that are found within the Village's Workplace Violence Prevention Program. For the Library, this shall include a workplace evaluation to identify and then to reduce or eliminate any workplace violence hazards and threats to which our employees, patrons, visitors, guests, or other individuals could be exposed. The Library shall support, follow, and cooperate with the Village's Workplace Violence Prevention Policy. All Library employees shall participate in the Village's annual Workplace Violence Prevention Training Program.

SEXUAL HARASSMENT

The Philmont Public Library (Library) is committed to maintaining a workplace free from sexual harassment. Sexual harassment is a form of workplace discrimination. The Library has a zero-tolerance policy for any form of sexual harassment, and all Library employees (employees) and Library volunteers (volunteers) are required to work in a manner that prevents sexual harassment in the workplace. This policy is one component of the Library's commitment to a discrimination-free work environment.

Sexual harassment is against the law. All employees have a legal right to a workplace free from sexual harassment, and employees can enforce this right by filing a complaint internally with the Library Director (Director) or with a government agency or in court under federal, state or local antidiscrimination laws.

POLICY

1. The Library's Sexual Harassment policy applies to and protects all employees, applicants for employment, interns, whether paid or unpaid, volunteers, Library patrons, contractors, and persons conducting business with the Library.
2. Sexual harassment will not be tolerated. Any employee or individual covered by this policy who engages in sexual harassment or retaliation will be subject to remedial and/or disciplinary action, up to and including termination.
3. Retaliation Prohibition: No person covered by this policy shall be subject to adverse employment action including being discharged, disciplined, discriminated against, or otherwise subject to adverse employment action because the employee reports an incident of sexual harassment, provides information, or otherwise assists in any investigation of a sexual harassment complaint. The Library has a zero-tolerance policy for such retaliation against anyone who in good faith complains or provides information about suspected sexual harassment. Any employee of the Library who retaliates against anyone involved in a sexual harassment investigation will be subjected to disciplinary action, up to and including termination. Any employee, paid or unpaid intern, or non-employee¹ working in the Library who believes he has been subject to such retaliation should inform the Director. Any employee, paid or unpaid intern or non-employee who believes he has been a victim of such retaliation may also seek compensation in other available forums, as explained below in the section on Legal Protections.
4. Sexual harassment is offensive, is a violation of our policies, is unlawful, and subjects the Library to liability for harm to victims of sexual harassment. Harassers may also be individually subject to liability. Employees of every level, including the Director and Library staff (staff), who engage in sexual harassment or who knowingly allow such behavior to continue, shall be penalized for such misconduct.

5. The Library shall conduct a prompt, thorough and confidential investigation that ensures due process for all parties whenever the Director receives a complaint about sexual harassment, or otherwise knows of possible sexual harassment occurring. Effective corrective action shall be taken whenever sexual harassment is found to have occurred. All employees, including the Director and staff, are required to cooperate with any internal investigation of sexual harassment.
6. All employees are encouraged to report any harassment or behaviors that violate this policy. The Library shall provide all employees with a complaint form for reporting harassment and filing complaints (Appendix F).
7. All Library employees are required to report any complaint that they receive, or any harassment that they observe, to the Director or the Board of Trustees.
8. This policy applies to all employees, paid or unpaid interns, non-employees, and volunteers, and all must follow and uphold this policy. This policy shall be posted prominently in all work locations and be provided to employees upon hiring.

¹A non-employee is someone who is (or is employed by) a contractor, subcontractor, vendor, consultant, or anyone providing services in the workplace. Protected non-employees include persons commonly referred to as independent contractors, “gig” workers and temporary workers. Also included are persons providing equipment repair, cleaning services or any other services provided pursuant to a contract with the employer.

SEXUAL HARASSMENT

Sexual harassment is a form of sex discrimination and is unlawful under federal, state, and local law. Sexual harassment includes harassment on the basis of sex, sexual orientation, gender identity and the status of being transgender.

Sexual harassment includes unwelcome conduct which is either of a sexual nature, or which is directed at an individual because of that individual’s sex when:

1. Such conduct has the purpose or effect of unreasonably interfering with an individual’s work performance or creating an intimidating, hostile or offensive work environment, even if the complaining individual is not the intended target of the sexual harassment;
2. Such conduct is made either explicitly or implicitly a term or condition of employment; or
3. Submission to or rejection of such conduct is used as the basis for decisions affecting an individual’s employment.

A sexually harassing hostile work environment consists of words, signs, jokes, pranks, intimidation or physical violence which are of a sexual nature, or which are directed at an individual because of that individual’s sex. Sexual harassment also consists of any unwanted verbal or physical advances, sexually explicit derogatory statements or sexually discriminatory remarks made by someone which are offensive or objectionable to the recipient, which cause the recipient discomfort or humiliation, or which interfere with the recipient’s job performance.

Sexual harassment also occurs when a person in authority tries to trade job benefits for sexual favors. This can include hiring, promotion, continued employment or any other terms, conditions or privileges of employment. This is also called “quid pro quo” harassment.

Any employee, volunteer, non-employee, or Library patron who feels harassed should complain so that any violation of this policy can be corrected promptly. Any harassing conduct, even a single incident, can be addressed under this policy.

Examples of sexual harassment:

The following describes some of the types of acts that may be unlawful sexual harassment and that are strictly prohibited:

1. Physical assaults of a sexual nature, such as touching, pinching, patting, grabbing, intentionally brushing against another employee’s body or poking another employee’s body
2. Rape, sexual battery, molestation or attempts to commit these assaults
3. Unwanted sexual advances or propositions, such as requests for sexual favors accompanied by implied or overt threats concerning the victim’s job performance evaluation, a promotion or other job benefits or detriments
4. Subtle or obvious pressure for unwelcome sexual activities
5. Sexually oriented gestures, noises, remarks, jokes or comments about a person’s sexuality or sexual experience, which create a hostile work environment
6. Hostile actions taken against an individual because of that individual’s sex, sexual orientation, gender identity and the status of being transgender, such as interfering with, destroying or damaging a person’s workstation, tools or equipment, or otherwise interfering with the individual’s ability to perform the job
7. Sabotaging an individual’s work
8. Bullying, yelling, name-calling

Who can be a target of sexual harassment:

Sexual harassment can occur between any individuals, regardless of their sex or gender. New York Law protects employees, paid or unpaid interns, and non-employees, including independent contractors, and those employed by companies contracting to provide services in the workplace. A perpetrator of sexual harassment can be a superior, a subordinate, a co-worker or anyone in the workplace including an independent contractor, contract worker, vendor, volunteer, or visitor.

Where sexual harassment can occur:

Unlawful sexual harassment is not limited to the physical workplace itself. It can occur while employees are traveling for business or at employer-sponsored events or parties. Calls, texts, emails, and social media usage by employees can constitute unlawful workplace harassment, even if they occur away from the workplace premises or not during work hours.

RETALIATION

Unlawful retaliation can be any action that would keep a worker from coming forward to make or support a sexual harassment claim. Adverse action need not be job-related or occur in the workplace to constitute unlawful retaliation (e.g., threats outside of work hours).

Such retaliation is unlawful under federal, state, and local law. The New York State Human Rights Law protects any individual who has engaged in “protected activity.” Protected activity occurs when a person has:

1. Filed a complaint of sexual harassment, either internally or with any anti-discrimination agency
2. Testified or assisted in a proceeding involving sexual harassment under the Human Rights Law or other anti-discrimination law
3. Opposed sexual harassment by making a verbal or informal complaint to management, or by simply informing a supervisor or manager of harassment
4. Complained that another employee has been sexually harassed
5. Encouraged a fellow employee to report harassment

REPORTING SEXUAL HARASSMENT

Preventing sexual harassment is everyone’s responsibility. The Library cannot prevent or remedy sexual harassment unless it knows about it. Any employee, paid or unpaid intern, volunteer, or non-employee who has been subjected to behavior that may constitute sexual harassment is encouraged to report such behavior to the Director or a member of the staff. Anyone who witnesses or becomes aware of potential instances of sexual harassment should report such behavior to the Director or a member of the staff.

Reports of sexual harassment may be made verbally or in writing. The Library shall provide a form for submission of a written complaint (Appendix F), and all employees and non-employees are encouraged to use this report form. Employees who are reporting sexual harassment on behalf of other employees should use the report form and note that it is on another employee’s behalf.

Employees, paid or unpaid interns or non-employees who believe they have been victims of sexual harassment may also seek assistance in other available forums, as explained below in the section on Legal Protections.

SUPERVISORY RESPONSIBILITIES

1. Any member of the staff who receives a complaint or information about suspected sexual harassment, observes what may be sexually harassing behavior, or for any reason suspects that sexual harassment is occurring, is required to report such suspected sexual harassment to the Director.
2. In addition to being subject to discipline if they have engaged in sexually harassing conduct themselves, all members of the staff shall be subject to discipline for failing to report suspected sexual harassment or otherwise knowingly allowing sexual harassment to continue.
3. The Director and staff shall also be subject to discipline for engaging in any retaliation.

COMPLAINT AND INVESTIGATION OF SEXUAL HARASSMENT

All complaints or information about suspected sexual harassment shall be investigated, whether that information has been reported in verbal or written form. Investigations shall be conducted in a timely manner, and shall be confidential to the extent possible.

An investigation of any complaint, information or knowledge of suspected sexual harassment shall be prompt and thorough, and should be completed within 30 days. The investigation shall be confidential to the extent possible. All persons involved, including complainants, witnesses, and alleged perpetrators shall be accorded due process to protect their rights to a fair and impartial investigation.

Any employee may be required to cooperate as needed in an investigation of suspected sexual harassment. Employees who participate in any investigation shall not be retaliated against.

Investigations shall be done in accordance with the following steps:

1. Upon receipt of complaint, the Director shall conduct an immediate review of the allegations, and take any interim actions, as appropriate. If a complaint is oral, the Director shall encourage the individual to complete the Sexual Harassment Report Form in writing. If he or she refuses, the Director shall fill out a Report Form based on the oral reporting.
2. If documents, emails or phone records are relevant to the allegations, the Director shall take steps to obtain and preserve them.
3. Request and review all relevant documents, including all electronic communications.
4. Interview all parties involved, including any relevant witnesses.
5. Create a written documentation of the investigation (such as a letter, memo or email), which contains the following:
 - a. A list of all documents reviewed, along with a detailed summary of relevant documents
 - b. A list of names of those interviewed, along with a detailed summary of their statements

- c. A timeline of events
 - d. A summary of prior relevant incidents, reported or unreported
 - e. The final resolution of the complaint, together with any corrective actions action(s) taken
6. Keep the written documentation and associated documents in the employer's records.
 7. Promptly notify the individual who complained and the individual(s) who responded of the final determination, and implement any corrective actions identified in the written document.
 8. Inform the individual who complained of his right to file a complaint or charge externally as outlined below.
 9. Should complaints involve the Library Director, they should be reported directly to the President or Vice President of the Library Board of Trustees, who shall follow up with the complete Board of Trustees as well as the Village Deputy Clerk if warranted.

LEGAL PROTECTIONS AND EXTERNAL REMEDIES

Sexual harassment is not only prohibited by the Library, but is also prohibited by state, federal, and local law.

Aside from the internal process at the Library, employees and non-employees may also choose to pursue legal remedies with the following governmental entities at any time:

NEW YORK STATE DIVISION OF HUMAN RIGHTS (DHR)

The Human Rights Law (HRL), codified as N.Y. Executive Law, art. 15, § 290 et seq., applies to employers in New York State with regard to sexual harassment, and protects employees, paid or unpaid interns and non-employees regardless of immigration status. A complaint alleging violation of the Human Rights Law may be filed either with DHR or in New York State Supreme Court.

Complaints with DHR may be filed any time within one year of the harassment. If an individual did not file at DHR, he can sue directly in state court under the HRL, within three years of the alleged discrimination. An individual may not file with DHR if he has already filed a HRL complaint in state court.

Complaining internally to the Library does not extend an individual's time to file with DHR or in court. The one year or three years is counted from the date of the most recent incident of harassment.

The individual does not need an attorney to file a complaint with DHR, and there is no cost to file with DHR.

DHR will investigate the individual's complaint and determine whether there is probable cause to believe that discrimination has occurred. Probable cause cases are forwarded to a public hearing before an administrative law judge. If discrimination is found after a hearing, DHR has the power to award relief, which varies but may include requiring the individual's employer to take action to stop the harassment, or redress the damage caused, including paying monetary damages, attorney's fees and civil fines.

DHR's main office contact information is: NYS Division of Human Rights, One Fordham Plaza, Fourth Floor, Bronx, New York 10458, (718) 741-8400 [appropriate other contact info], www.dhr.ny.gov

Contact DHR at (888) 392-3644 or visit dhr.ny.gov/complaint for more information about filing a complaint. The website has a complaint form that can be downloaded, filled out, notarized and mailed to DHR. The website also contains contact information for DHR's regional offices across New York State.

UNITED STATES EQUAL EMPLOYMENT OPPORTUNITY COMMISSION (EEOC)

The EEOC enforces federal anti-discrimination laws, including Title VII of the 1964 federal Civil Rights Act (codified as 42 U.S.C. § 2000e et seq.). An individual can file a complaint with the EEOC anytime within 300 days from the harassment. There is no cost to file a complaint with the EEOC. The EEOC will investigate the complaint, and determine whether there is reasonable cause to believe that discrimination has occurred, at which point the EEOC will issue a Right to Sue letter permitting the individual to file a complaint in federal court.

The EEOC does not hold hearings or award relief, but may take other action including pursuing cases in federal court on behalf of complaining parties. Federal courts may award remedies if discrimination is found to have occurred.

If an employee believes that he has been discriminated against at work, he can file a "Charge of Discrimination." The EEOC has district, area, and field offices where complaints can be filed. Contact the EEOC by calling 1-800-669-4000 (1-800-669-6820 (TTY)), visiting their website at www.eeoc.gov, or via email at info@eeoc.gov

If an individual files an administrative complaint with DHR, DHR will file the complaint with the EEOC to preserve the right to proceed in federal court.

LOCAL PROTECTIONS

Many localities enforce laws protecting individuals from sexual harassment and discrimination. An individual should contact the county, city or town in which he lives to find out if such a law exists. If the harassment involves physical touching, coerced physical confinement or coerced sex acts, the conduct may constitute a crime. In which case, he may contact the local police department.

The Library shall uphold all provisions of the Sexual Harassment policy of the Village of Philmont, NY.

Adoption of this policy does not constitute a conclusive defense to charges of unlawful sexual harassment. Each claim of sexual harassment will be determined in accordance with existing legal standards, with due consideration of the particular facts and circumstances of the claim, including but not limited to the existence of an effective anti-harassment policy and procedure.
